RACE 8

POLLYANNA jumped away cleanly, moving to take an early lead ahead of MAYBE THIS TIME. POLLYANNA led through the middle stages of the event, and continued to roll along in front at the top of the straight. Down the home straight POLLYANNA still led the field, but a group of horses was closing in quickly, including race favourite HARBOURING, who had been building momentum from the 800 metre point. HARBOURING ran the fastest splits from the 800 metre point to the winning post and stormed down the outside on the track en route to a commanding win, putting the field away by over two lengths.
